AUTUMN & WINTER HIGHLIGHTS

HOT STONE MASSAGE

Using hot stones in massages has been a tradition in many cultures. Basal stones, which were formed from molten lava long ago, are used to release muscle tension, relieve the connective tissue, stimulate the metabolism and relax the soul.

HONEY MASSAGE

This plucking massage originally comes from Tibet and is still used today as a detoxification treatment. The ingredients of the honey are absorbed through the skin, where they have an antibacterial and activating effect. The “plucking” also ensures better blood circulation and stimulates the metabolism.
